

GET STARTED

- Share the information you've learned on our website via social media.
- Start a Facebook page to call for seat belts on school buses—and be sure to invite friends and family to join.
- Follow SafeGuard4Kids on Facebook (facebook.com/safeguard4kids), Twitter (@@safeguard4kids), and Pinterest (pinterest.com/safeguardseat) to stay up-to-date with the latest news, success stories, and resources.
- Download and share the documents from Safeguard4Kids.com.
- Download the Safeguard parents newsletter from Safeguard4Kids.com.

READY FOR MORE

- Talk to your PTO/PTA and urge them to get involved.
- Email or call your district's transportation director and share what you've learned on SafeGuard4Kids.com
- Email or call your superintendent and school board with your concerns and direct them to SafeGuard4Kids.com.
- Contact your district and state legislators and encourage others to do the same.

TAKE A STAND

- Mobilize a group of passionate parents to make your voices heard.
- Call or email SafeGuard to come speak to your community, parent/teacher organization, or school board.
- Get on the school board's meeting agenda to talk about seat belts on school buses.
- Contact local media after you're on the school board's agenda. Let them know you and other concerned parents will be stating your case for seat belts on school buses.
- You'll hear a lot of misinformation against seat belts, but now you know the facts. Don't give up. Keep pushing for safer school buses for your kids!